Strikes Deal Paralyzing Blow to Three Cities

(By The Associated Press)

Strikes by comparatively small groups of workers dealt paralyzing blows today to the millions living in New York City, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

New York City's business, industrial and amusement activities were at a standstill as the city faced a crisis in the fuel shortage resulting from a nine-day strike by 3500 tugboat workers.

A strike of power company employes started in industrial Pittsburgh, but electrical current was still flowing several hours later to thousands of homes and buildings in the strike area in which 1,500,000 persons reside.

Street railway service was halted shortly before the strike began, but a spokesman for the struck Duquesne Light company said it was still supplying current on an emergency basis.

He expressed belief that, despite the strike, the company could continue to provide service to institutions and homes—but only if householders limited their consumption to vital needs.

The city was in confusion and Mayor David L. Lawrence declared a state of emergency.

Public schools and most of the district colleges were closed.

Downtown department stores closed their doors "until further notice." Activities in large office buildings were reduced to a minimum.

A transit strike in Philadelphia by 9900 workers continued for the second day and business in the nation's third largest city was disrupted and millions were inconvenienced.

The situation in New York city appeared the most grave. Mayor William O'Dwyer's order closing all places of public assembly was unprecedented in the peace-time history of the world's largest city.

Only essential services—hospitals, transit and communication services and restaurants deemed necessary to maintain the city's health and general welfare—were exempt from the mayor's edict, which became effective last midnight.

As the nine-day-old strike over a wage-hour dispute showed no indications of immediate settlement, the fuel shortage became more critical due to the lack of supplies, normally brought by tugboat from New Jersey.

Tugboat operators were scheduled to again meet on a proposal to arbitrate the dispute, after having failed to reach a decision at an all-night meeting. Leaders of the A.F.L. tugboat workers have agreed to arbitration.

In Lancaster, Pa., a strike of 220 A.F.L. workers against the Conestoga Transportation company entered its seventh day and police prepared for any emergency following flareups of violence yesterday.

There appeared little chance for the country's other major labor troubles.

The total idle throughout the country because of the various disputes was approximately 1,460,000.

Price Ceiling Feature Stricken From Housing Measure

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Despite the pleas of Housing Boss William W. Wyatt, the homes-for-veterans bill will go to the house floor next week minus the price ceilings President Truman wants on old houses.

A fight on party lines is probable on that issue, but Wyatt last night got republican and democratic leaders to agree to another key portion of Mr. Truman's two-year program for 2,700,000 new homes.

This calls for $600,000,000 worth of federal subsidies—Wyatt calls them "premium payments"—to stimulate the output of scarce building materials.

Wyatt contends the premium payments have two advantages over higher prices as a production spur: they do not bring about higher prices for finished houses, and they can be reduced or eliminated more easily when no longer needed.

Leaders of the house banking committee agreed to present this among other jointly - sponsored amendments. The leaders thus reversed the committee's decision of last week in approving a watered-down version of the measure introduced by Rep. Patman (Dem., Tex.).

The agreement came out of a conference attended by Wyatt, Patman, committee Chairman Spence (Dem., Ky.) and Representative Wolcott (Mich.) the ranking committee republican.

Republicans declined to give similar support to Mr. Truman's plans for ceilings on the nation's 40,000,000 existing dwellings.

The bill does contain a formula for ceilings on newly built houses based on a "reasonable" cost for land, labor and materials, but republicans are expected to challenge this on the floor also. Wolcott has argued that price ceilings would tend to discourage production instead of helping the housing shortage.

Dutch Widow's Heroism Told

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 12 (AP)—There ould be no better way of giving you ur outstanding impression of Holand than to introduce you to the idow of Wervershoef, for she represents the stoutness of heart and lf-sacrifice which brought this litle lovely country of canals and indmills through the frightfulness the Hitlerite occupation.

Mrs. Mack and I discovered the idow of Wervershoef quite by acident. The story really began in msterdam as we were starting on trip northward by motor. Our uide pointed out that the highway e were on was the route which less han a year ago was being taken aily by throngs of city dwellers ho could not get food in Amsterm and in desperation tramped or cycled far into the country in search something to eat among the farms. These people slept where they ould, and when they found food—ything edible was food—they took he long trail back to the great city. nd the nazi soldiery used to hide long the way and rob these unfornates.

Our chauffeur remarked that he d made the hunger march several mes and added that he had found a iend on a Wervershoef farm who ways was ready to help the needy. rs. Mack and I asked him if he ould introduce us to his benefacr and thus it came about that we nally knocked at the door of a tidy rmhouse and were given a warm elcome.

We were surprised to find that our rmer was a woman. It was when e were visiting her big cow barn at she remarked that during the azi occupation Dutch underground ents lived beneath the great hayow.

The widow not only had risked her e to help the underground cause, ut in that same haymow hunger archers slept every night, unaware the agents beneath them.

Daily the widow took in these or people, sometimes 20 or more a time, but as she remarked simly: "They needed help."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Surplus roperty officials once thought that that they would be lucky if OSS they salvaged 10 cents on the dollar of the approximately 200,000,000,000 which the United tates spent on military and aerial rmament required to defeat the xis. Their estimates were deounced on Capital Hill as unjustiably pessimistic.

Since the organization of the war assets corporation to handle this problem, a reserve indicates that a return of 1 cent on the dollar will be more likely—that is, $2,000,000,000 instead of $20,000,000,000.

Hannegan Denies Truman Won't Run

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan said today there is "no truth" in a report that President Truman told a group of advisers he will not be a candidate for the presidency in 1948.

Hannegan issued a formal statement from the democratic national committee headquarters. It said:

"There is no truth in the report that President Truman told a group of White House advisers that he would not be a candidate for the presidency in 1948.

"The president has been so busy with foreign and domestic problems of overshadowing importance that he has had no time to consider the 1948 election.

"I do not know the origin of the story appearing in the newspapers today. To my knowledge no such meeting as was described was ever held."

Charles G. Ross, White House secretary, replied "no comment" when asked about the report.

The story to which Hannegan referred was a Washington dispatch to the Chicago Sun. It told of a reported incident at the White House several weeks ago in which the president is reputed to have told intimates he did not want to run in 1948.

New City Policeman Sworn In Today

Robert L. Hammond was sworn in this morning as a Wallace city policeman succeeding the late J. C. Farris, who was killed while on duty January 31, Police Chief Charles Foust announced. Boyd Anderson, 21, Cascade, Mont., is being held in connection with Farris' death.

Hammond, 29, formerly was a member of the Coeur d'Alene police department and came here from Spokane, where he had been employed in the rolling mills, Foust said. He had been working in a local mine.

He is married and has one daughter.

O P A Sets Goal For Nylon Hose

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Six pairs of nylons by next July for every woman in the country is O P A's goal.

"The trade feels it will be perhaps July before every woman has perhaps half a dozen pairs put away," Deputy Price Administrator Geoffrey Baker told the house appropriations committee.

Baker said the principal shortage now is due to lack of certain shaping machines.

Barkley Heads Drive to Win Loan Approval

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—Democratic Leader Barkley will take personal command of the administration's drive to win senate approval of the proposed $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain.

With opponents already lining up against the proposal, Barkley told a reporter hearings probably will begin before the senate banking committee next week. Ordinarily, Barkley permits committee chairmen to head the battle for specific measures. However, because of the illness of Senator Wagner (Dem., N. Y.), chairman of the banking group, the Kentuckian said he will take over in this case.

The loan authorization was among legislation discussed by leaders at a White House conference yesterday. While Barkley would not comment directly, it was indicated that President Truman was told there is a difficult road ahead before the bill can clear both houses.

Republicans generally have been insisting that any credit granted the British must be on "a business basis."

In this connection, Senator Moore (Rep., Okla.) told a reporter he favors extension of some immediate credit to England but wants the whole field of possible loans to war allies studied before any large scale commitments are made.

Eight Will Take Draft Examinations

Eight Shoshone county men will be sent to Spokane for preinduction physical examinations Thursday, the local selective service board said today. The board has received a call for 11 men to be inducted February 26.

Inducted into the army January 30 were Ronald E. Utz, Kellogg, and Arnold G. Rieken, Smelterville, the board announced, adding that credit was given the local board for the following army enlistments in December: William M. Jose, Wardner; Doyle E. Slover, Kellogg; Robert H. Highsmith, Wallace, and Donald O. Barker, Kingston.

County Commissioners Approve Budget

The county commissioners yesterday approved the 1946 budget in the same form in which it had been tentatively adopted. No changes were made. The budget appropriates $559,494 for the current year.

The commissioners granted a beer license to Edward H. Metzger, Smelterville.

Inquest Will Be Held Tomorrow

A coroner's inquest will be held tomorrow afternoon into the fatal shooting Friday night of Joe Boni, 31, Kellogg, Prosecuting Attorney A. J. Graf said today.

No charge will be filed against Ernest Johnson, 59, Kellogg, until after the inquest. Johnson told officers he shot Boni as the latter attempted to enter his tavern in Kellogg, after having been warned to stay out following a family quarrel.

To Crack Down On Tax Evaders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—A $1,604,556,940 treasury - postoffice supply bill containing funds for a crack-down on tax evaders and postal racketeers won house appropriations committee approval today.

Sent to the house floor for debate starting tomorrow, it finances operations of the treasury and postoffice departments for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The actual cash provided is $29,660,250 below budget estimates and represents only about 10 per cent of the total funds handled by the two agencies.

Permanent and indefinite annual appropriations, including $1,570,000,000 for tax refunds and $5,000,000,000 for interest on the national debt, run the actual total to over $11,000,000,000. While congress does not appropriate for these purposes each year, the appropriations committee reviews and reports on the expenditures annually.

The $5,000,000,000 which the committee reported as the estimated cost of interest on the national debt next year is $250,000,000 more than current funds for that purpose. But the tax-refund item is $1,104,000,000 below the amount appropriated for this year.

The committee wrote into the bill at the last minute an amendment continuing for two more years the treasury department's authority to sell silver for industrial purposes at 71.11 cents per fine troy ounce.

The amendment was expected to precipitate a fight on the house floor, since many members have been advocating a higher price.

Services Thursday For Mrs. Toole

Funeral services for Mrs. Hugh Toole, 57, Wallace, who died yesterday, will be held at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Smith Funeral Home in Spokane. Cremation will follow.

Ward's Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

A son, Hugh Toole Jr., Wilmington, Del., is due to arrive by plane in Spokane at 9 o'clock tonight to attend the services.

Council Makes Arrangements for Emergency Houses

Snow removal, housing and other problems came up for consideration at a lengthy meeting of the city council last night.

The council voted to permit emergency housing units to be erected on the ground the city leases from the Union Pacific and Northern Pacific north of the river—the site of the former carnival grounds—providing the railroads give permission. The Union Pacific already has and a reply is awaited from the Northern Pacific. This ground originially was leased to the city with the provision that it be used for recreational purposes only.

The Wallace housing committee is seeking to have 25 or 50 emergency housing units brought here, with the understanding they would be destroyed at the end of two years or at the end of the housing emergency. They would be furnished by the government.

The council, however, voted not to make any expenditures toward erecting the buildings, and was assured by Mayor John Batts that the housing committee will arrange for the expenses incidental to erection of the units. The government furnishes the units and brings them here, but utilities and sidewalks must be furnished by the sponsoring agency. Batts said such arrangements had been made with private firms.

Snow Removal.

The biggest part of the meeting, however, was devoted to a discussion of the snow removal problem, with one councilman opening the debate with a remark that city residents are protesting the present condition of the streets.

During the course of the discussion it was brought out that present snow removal equipment, including the bulldozer and the snow loader, will remove snow but not ice or slush. One councilman declared at that point that "if our present expensive equipment is no good, and we have so much money tied up in it, let's get some more equipment that will make it adequate. We can't afford to let expensive equipment stand idle."

Present conditions are "unusual" and the worst in many years, and probably will not be duplicated in some time, another council member declared.

East Will Get Home for UNO

LONDON, Feb. 12. (AP)—The permanent headquarters committee adjourned today without taking a vote on an interim site for the United Nations after last ditch campaigns were launched for San Francisco and Atlantic City, N. J.

When it reconvenes tomorrow the committee will consider a motion proposing San Francisco, a French recommendation by Vincent Broustra that the decision be left to the secretary-general and the site inspecting group's nomination of New York city.

The committee voted last night 22-17 that the permanent home of the United Nations should be located in the region of Westchester county, N. Y., and Fairfield county, Conn., proposed by the site inspecting group.

Anti-New York area delegates, led by the French, Australians and Bolivians, indicated that if the committee would agree on San Francisco as a temporary site they would not oppose the Westchester-Fairfield area as a permanent headquarters when the recommendation goes to the general assembly, where a two-thirds majority vote is required.

Morse Criticizes Republican Party

BOISE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Republican Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon last night declared his party has not tried to prevent "the exploitation of the common men and women x x x from those who control the economic forces of the country."

In a Lincoln day address here Morse also criticized the action of Senator White (Rep., Maine), minority leader, "who defended the filibuster technique and argued against the exercise of cloture protection" during the recent controversy over the fair employment practices bill.

Morse said representative government "has the primary obligation of doing those things for all of its people which they best cannot do for themselves," and added:

"That includes the obligation of government to prevent the exploitation of the common men and women of this country from those who control the economic forces of the country.

"Unfortunately, that has not been the position of the republican party since 1912."

However, he denied what he termed "the false impression" created by the democrats "that the republican party is the party of big business."

In an interview before his address, Morse said he was opposed to the introduction of labor legislation at this time.

"No matter what type of legislation is brought in at this time of hysteria, it will be so emasculated that it will react against the business interests that are forcing it."

The Truman administration "has completely fumbled the handling of major labor disputes," the senator asserted, adding:

"It cannot be said that during this period of reconversion that free collective bargaining has been in operation. It cannot operate in this present time for the reason that in all disputes the government is in fact a third party.

"Industry cannot negotiate wage settlements until it knows what the government economic control policy will be for the next 12 months."

U. S.-Britain Sign Air Pact

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 12 (AP)—Commercial aviation in the United States and Great Britain was linked today by an agreement authorizing an unlimited number of flights between the two countries at "economic rates" to be fixed by intergovernmental action.

The agreement, signed here last night, allows the commercial planes of each country to use the airports of the other as stepping stones on global flights.

Each country is given a free hand in determining the number of such flights to be made by its airlines.

So-called "fifth freedom" traffic is authorized. This will allow an airliner en route between the two countries to pick up passengers and traffic bound for a third country, and will allow economic operation of the long-line services with which both Britain and the United States are planning to encircle the world.

A second agreement was reached opening to commercial traffic many of the military air bases built by the the United States government on territory leased from the British in Newfoundland, Bermuda and Caribbean areas. U. S. commercial planes will receive "most favored nation" treatment at these bases.

Union Rejects 18½ Cent Wage Boost Offer

DETROIT, Feb. 12 (AP)—General Motors corporation late today offered the striking CIO-United Automobile Workers an 18½ cents an hour wage increase and it was promptly rejected by U A W Vice-President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther and other union negotiators walked out of the negotiating session, with Reuther telling the corporation officials that "we will not be back until you are ready to offer 19½ cents."

General Motors' highest previous offer was 13½ cents.

The union had steadfastly demanded 19½ cents, the figure recommended by President Truman's fact-finding board.

General Motors earlier announced an additional 5 per cent pay increase for its 70,000 salaried employes in the United States, bringing their total post-war increase to 15 per cent.

DIVORCE SUITS

Ruth P. Adams filed suit today to divorce Emery M. Adams on grounds of extreme cruelty. They were married in Sandpoint September 7, 1935. Marie Crow would divorce Francis Crow on grounds of extreme cruelty and asks custody of a son. They were married in Shamrock, Texas, August 2, 1944.

World's Greatest City Silent and Stunned

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—This world's greatest metropolis was a silent, stricken city today.

War-time restrictions at their worst never imposed such austerities as Mayor William O'Dwyer's fuel-saving proclamation closing all places except those most vitally concerned with public safety and health because of the tugboat strike.

The city's 8,000,000 inhabitants—many forbidden to work—still were a little stunned and bewildered.

They were told to stay off subways. They could not see a movie, go to other amusement centers, or even drink a glass of beer in a bar.

The underground trembling of subways, the overhead roar of the El, the hoot, squeal and clatter of traffic were sharply reduced.

Only a few trucks rumbled along streets in the city's great industrial, wholesale and retail centers.

Giant, towering skyscrapers were empty and silent save for the occasional footsteps of maintenance men.

Schools were closed.

Police stood at subway entrances and at strategic points on thoroughfares, telling all comers:

"All stores and offices in the city closed today."

The teeming Wall street district—its operations idle anyway today because of Lincoln's birthday—was as quiet as Trinity churchyard. Should the emergency continue tomorrow, markets throughout the world would feel repercussions.

Taylor Quotes Abe Lincoln

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—Noting that republicans are paying annual tribute to Abraham Lincoln, Senator Taylor (Dem., Idaho), a freshman democrat, suggests some Lincoln quotations for their use.

Taylor in a statement observed that the republican rallies are at "state hotels "in New York and other well upholstered log cabins in other cities" with "homage from the party of Herbert Hoover, Tom Dewey and Joe Pew."

"I'd like to submit a few quotations from Abraham Lincoln which republican party orators might find useful between the truffles and champagne," Taylor noted in citing these:

"In 1860, at New Haven, Conn., Abraham Lincoln said: 'I am glad to see that a system of labor prevails in New England under which laborers can strike when they want to, where they are not obliged to work under all circumstances and are not tied down and obliged to labor whether you pay them or not! I like the system that lets a man quit when he wants to, and wish it might prevail everywhere . . . so while we do not propose any war upon capital, we do wish to allow the humblest man an equal chance to get rich with everybody else."

"And in his second inaugural address, the great emancipator observed: 'It may seem strange that any men should dare ask a just God's assistance in wringing their bread from the sweat of other men's faces.'

"In his annual message to congress on December 3, 1861, President Lincoln said: 'Labor is prior to, and independent of, capital. Capital is only the fruit of labor, and could never have existed if labor had not first existed. Labor is the superior of capital, and deserves much the higher consideration.' "

SPOKANE, Feb. 12. (AP)—When the Inland Empire basketball tournament gets under way here March 1, 12 district winners will be represented, Father Arthur Dussault, chairman of the Tourney committee, said last night.

The winner of the tournament will be invited to the national A. A. U. meet March 17-23, he said.

New York Sports Arenas Closed

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—Mammoth Madison Square Garden and other booming sports arenas in New York City shut their doors today as Mayor William O'Dwyer ordered the closing of all amusement places until further notice because of the fuel famine resulting from the tugboat tieup.

The first big sporting event to be hit by the directive was dogdom's premier event — the Westminster Kennel club's 70th annual dog show scheduled to be held today and tomorrow in the Garden.

A total of 2599 canine aristocrats had been brought here from all over the country and Canada to compete for coveted cups and trophies.

Unless the ban is lifted today, the entire show will be cancelled, said William Ross Proctor, chairman of Westminster's show committee.

Ned Irish, the Garden's executive vice-president, said early today that the big Eighth avenue arena would be closed "during the present emergency."

The Daily News announced that the second half of its New York Golden Glove semifinals, scheduled to be held at the Ridgewood grove in Brooklyn tonight, had been postponed until the emergency was over. A number of other events carded for today undoubtedly will be postponed.

Lesnevich May Meet Billy Fox

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12. (AP)—Light-Heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich was considering seriously today a fancy financial offer to defend his crown against belting Billy Fox, while the Pennsylvania State Athletic commission accused Billy's 37th—and latest—straight knockout victim of "quitting cold" to the young kayo specialist.

The offer of a flat $30,000 for Gus if he turns back Fox's challenge and $50,000 if Billy should take the bauble away from him was made last night after Billy flattened the veteran Nate Bolden in 49 seconds of the second round of what started out as a 10-round bout.

Lesnevich's manager, Little Joe Vella, said he was paying attention to the bid for a title tussle in Convention hall here in April simply because "the way that guy punches, it may be best if we take him on now instead of waiting until he learns too much about boxing." The offer was made by Blinky Palermo, Fox's manager, and Matchmaker Pete Moran.

cleared that if cars were prohibited from parking in the business district all night, then city crews could remove snow in the early morning hours, before traffic starts, and Street Overseer Anton Mautz declared "that is the only way to do it."

Other councilmen said, however, that garages were not open long enough in the evening to accomodate late arrivals, who must park on the streets.

The councilmen also debated whether it would be best to push the snow to the center or the side of the streets. Fire Chief John Boyd asked that it be pushed to the sides, and it was decided to return to this practice.

Mautz declared new equipment for removal of hard crusted snow and ice will be given a test here by the manufacturer in the next few days. He said it is impossible to rent such equipment now, as it is all in use.

It also was brought out that the cost of removing the snow, using rented equipment such as was done earlier this winter for two days, runs to about $40 an hour.

To Extend Spur.

The council voted to permit the Union Pacific railroad to extend its spur on Hotel street approximately 200 feet westward to better serve the Sunset brewery. The railroad must repave the street and provide a bumper at the end of the spur.

The district Boy Scout council was given permission to use the council chambers once a month.

Fines and forfeitures in January amounted to $746.85, the police report showed.

Rules Gas Tax Fund Available

BOISE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Attorney General Frank Langley ruled today that money accumulated in the state highway fund from a special two-year tax of an additional one cent per gallon on gasoline is available for expenditure without legislative appropriation.

The one cent additional tax was levied by the last legislature to provide a postwar fund for matching with federal funds in highway construction and improvement in the state. The normal tax of five cents per gallon was raised to six cents.

Boise Riggs Wants Larger Force

BOISE, Feb. 12. (AP)—Anticipating a special session of the Idaho legislature, Boise Riggs, state commissioner of law enforcement, proposed today a $342,608 budget to finance immediate expansion of the department's law enforcement for an 18-months period.

The budget would be sufficient to pay salaries for 35 additional state police officers, bringing the total to 50, Briggs said.

In addition to paying salaries this amount will be adequate to furnish each additional officer with a car the necessary travel expenses and fire arms, Riggs explained.

Under his plan, requiring legislative approval, the department's strength would be the greatest in history, Riggs said. With the increased post-war traffic it is impossible for the present 15 men to cover the state, he declared.

Riggs said he believes that at least one patrolman should be stationed in each of Idaho's 44 counties and at least two officers in the state's large counties.

Solons Want Silver To Be Monetized

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—Monetization of 330,000,000 ounces of idle silver now in treasury vaults would save the federal government substantial sums in interest charges, four western senators believe.

Senators Abe Murdock (Dem., Utah) and Glen H. Taylor (Dem., Idaho) are among the backers of the proposal, which has been submitted in writing to Secretary of the Treasury Vinson.

They also claimed a monetization policy would bring to an end the demands of silversmiths for enactment of the Green bill, which provides for purchase of silver at less than its monetary value.

Expect Announcement From Governor

POCATELLO, Feb. 12. (AP)—An announcement from Governor Arnold Williams on the calling of a special session of the Idaho legislature is anticipated either Friday or Saturday.

Williams, in Pocatello to present awards to southeastern Idaho selective service board members, said a definite announcement, including the dates if any are involved, will be made at that time. However, he did not indicate whether he will summon a special session.

But from other sources there was speculation that the session will be called about February 20.

POLICE COURT

Walter B. Boardson was fined $15 and costs when arraigned in police court today on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge, and elected to serve out the fine. Fred L. Hanner was fined $10 and costs on a similar charge and was "floated" and Marvin E. Taylor, cook in a local restaurant, was fined $25 and costs on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge.

INDIANS RIOT

CALCUTTA, Feb. 12. (AP)—At least four persons were killed and many others injured today when police fired on rioting mobs of Indians who demanded the release of Captain Rashio Ali, Moslem officer sentenced to seven years imprisonment as a leader of the Japanese-sponsored Indian national army."

WINCHELL ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12. (AP)—Strong words passed in the house today as an aftermath of Representative Rankin (Dem., Miss.) calling Walter Winchell a "Slime Mongering Mike," and the fracas ended only when Rankin and Representative Delacy (Dem., Wash.) were silenced by a ruling of Speaker Rayburn.

EBRO FINED

Ewald Ebro, 68, Burke, pleaded guilty in probate court today to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and was fined $50 and costs.

PARENTS OF DAUGHTER

A daughter was born at a local hospital Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephens. He is director of music in the Wallace public schools.

PROCLAIM MARTIAL LAW

CALCUTTA, Feb. 12. (AP)—Calcutta was placed under martial law onight and British troops and light tanks moved into the streets to quell rioting Hindus and Moslems.

Flashes Of Life

FREMONT, Ohio, Feb. 12 (AP)—Sergeant M. F. Baier came here the other day to start army recruiting work, but couldn't find a room. He talked with Jack Horner, 18, a West Virginian living in Fremont, convinced him the army was the place for him, enrolled him and then rented his room.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—James P. Finnegan, internal revenue collector, is confused, he admits.

"This is the way I see it," says Finnegan. "The simplified federal income tax form is one of the most complicated I have ever seen and the so-called regular (complicated) form is one of the most simple."

To prove his point:

Forty-eight clerks are far behind processing simplified return forms; 19 clerks are managing very well with the complicated version.

LINCOLN AND 'RECONSTRUCTION'

During the war years it was natural that on Lincoln's Birthday we should look back through time and history to a war of 80 years before, and to the words and example of a man of acknowledged greatness who led an embattled nation to victory.

This year the analogy no longer holds good. We are in the midst of what, 80 years ago, was called reconstruction. Had Lincoln lived through that period of reconstruction, this nation's history would be a different and undoubtedly a happier one. But the task of returning the country to the ways and practices of peace was entrusted to the war president's successor, as it is today. Lincoln died at the dawn of peace; Roosevelt, almost on the eve of victory.

It would be comforting and instructing to know how Abraham Lincoln would have met problems similar to those which the United States faces now.

How would he have helped to answer the question of whether "We shall nobly save or meanly lose the last, best hope of earth" through a closer organization of the world's nations? How might he have aided in solving our industrial disputes quickly and fairly?

It is idle to speculate. But it is also excusable to turn to some of Lincoln's thoughts on labor and read them with present circumstances in mind. The particular thoughts quoted here were contained in some informal remarks which he made to a delegation of New York workingmen in March of 1864.

They are not a formal economic and social philosophy. They may not be geared to today's thinking but they make interesting reading, nevertheless.

"The strongest bond of human sympathy, outside of the family relations," Lincoln said, "should be one uniting all working people, of all nations, and tongues, and kindreds." (That would get him called a Communist today.)

"Nor should this lead to a war upon property or the owners of property. Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise." (That would get him called a conservative, or worse.)

"Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own should be safe from violence when built." (That might be called good sense and sound advice which is probably more apt today than it was in 1864.)

commercial companies.

More than 16,000 of those 24,000 machines have been sold, and they brought the small sum of $56,196,052.

But their original cost in a period of high prices for labor, material and rapid changes in design amounted to approximately $5,500,000,000; Figures on the comparison between war-time and peace-time values of engines, parts and accessories are comparable. It costs more to sell them than to dump them in the ocean or bury them in the ground.

SCRAP In view of the shortage of steel caused by the current strike, congressional critics demand that these planes, tanks, big guns and other heavy weapons be cut up into scrap and sold to dealers.

That experiment has been tried and found wanting. To assemble this surplus property at scattered smelters, to melt them down or cut them up, to assort the component parts and to transport them to the purchasers' plants or places of business represent an investment far greater than buyers can pay. They can purchase ordinary scrap at a much lower figure.

RULING Billions of dollars' worth of stuff overseas will be destroyed under a program which seems like wanton waste of the taxpayers' money. It is the spectacle of this destruction in England, Europe, Africa and the Far East which has led congressional investigators to shout their heads off on the floor.

The foreign liquidation commission, a division in the state department, has charge of the disposal of all property abroad—the remains of our overseas war machine. It has ruled that no weapons still fit for military use can be sold to foreign nations or factions.

BIDS France has offered bids for tanks, artillery and planes still within her borders. So have several Balkan and Baltic countries.

But, remembering the criticism of the alleged use of American arms to suppress rebellions in China, Java and Burma, the state department has ruled that foreigners cannot buy these goods.

As a result, they are being brought back to this country at great expense. Twelve to 15 carloads a day roll into each of the seven distribution centers in the United States. Under another plan they are cut to pieces if not worth returning to the United States and virtually given away as scrap to overseas purchasers.

GRAVEYARD These same tragic considerations will govern the disposal of lend-lease property originally costing $60,000,000,000. Although the master contract has a clause providing for the return of surviving stuff at the close of the conflict, it is doubtful whether a nickel's worth will be recovered.

The United States financed the construction of railroads, wharves, airfields, warehouses all around the globe. They were essential to the defeat of the axis. Inasmuch as they cannot be brought back here, they are going under the hammer at bargain prices.

The arms we lend-leased to our allies have been burned up. Having a smaller supply than ourselves, Britain and Russia had not sufficient replacements to permit American-made weapons to undergo repairs or a rest.

In England there is a hole one mile square and 30 feet deep filled with the wreckage of the finest American planes that rolled off the lines of our factories. The British now complain because they need that land to grow vegetables.

In this country surplus property likewise clutters more than 500 warehouses, army-navy depots and airfields. The space is badly wanted for other purposes.

Thus, the $200,000,000,000 war machine we built or most of it—cannot even find an undisturbed graveyard.—Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Verline, Spokane, was the scene of the wedding of their daughter, Miss Sunny Jean Brinnon, and John Anthony Garbutt, formerly of Burke and Wallace. The Rev. William Graham, assistant pastor of the Church of Truth, officiated. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Armani, Spokane, and Miss Frances Balensiefen played the wedding march. All are former Wallace residents.

A reception was held in the evening. The couple will leave tomorrow for a wedding trip to points in California and will make their home in Spokane upon their return March 1.

The groom received his discharge from the army after almost four years in the service, 28 months of which were spent in the South Pacific. He attended Burke and Wallace high schools and was employed at the Providence hospital here.

The groom's father, John Garbutt, former Burke resident, came from Lewiston to attend the wedding.

Says G.O.P. Must Not be Machine

BOISE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Reilly Atkinson, chairman of the Idaho republican central committee, last night declared the use of the G. O. P. as a "machine of the elected official" is "destructive to party lines, has no continuity and holds no place for the variety of long time planning that leads to better government."

The practice "must stop," he said in an address to the committee.

During the session committeemen unanimously nominated Miss Izetta McCoy of Twin Falls as national committeewoman to replace Mrs. Emma Clouchek of the same city, who resigned.

The national committee must act on the nomination.

The Idaho Republican Women's club is strong enough to become a member of the national group for the first time in its history, Mrs. Rose Mayes of Kellogg told the group.

Another speaker, Claude Marcus of Boise, president of the young republican club, told the committee:

"Veterans are tired of the hot air that has been passed out by both parties. The Young Republicans are not proud of the republican party or its candidates in the last 20 years in Idaho."

However, W. Gipson of Caldwell, asserted:

"We can be assured of a republican victory if we can present a good plotform and ticket."

A new financing program was explained by Earl Brockman of Caldwell.

ALL THEY ASKED WAS AN EVEN BREAK

BUILDING a new country was no easy job. But there were men and women willing to tackle it—to turn their backs on the safe and sure way of life and their faces toward new frontiers. All they asked was an even break.

Free enterprise is another way of saying "an even break." Free enterprise is not a political catchword. It's the basic American principle of vision and personal initiative. Just give an American an even break—a chance to get ahead—and he'll go on from there.

But when government goes into business, in competition with its citizens, the American ideal of an even break is destroyed—for government in business enjoys special privileges that are denied the people.

Take the case of government-owned power systems, for example. They pay few, if any, taxes; often get money from the U. S. Treasury at little or no interest; make up losses out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

On the other hand, America's business-managed power companies—owned and operated by millions of folks like you—are on their own. They pay their full share of taxes, and they pay fair interest on any loans.

It's a tribute to American self-reliance that tax-paying, self-supporting companies supply over ⅘ of the enormous amount of electricity used in this country.

The same forethought and experience which furnished electric power for a global war will assure America dependable — and cheap — electric service for a post-war world. There are still new frontiers in electric living to be opened. And business men can do the job better than bureaucrats.

Lefty O'Doul Puts on Weight

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12. (AP)—His old New York and Brooklyn friends would hardly know the big fellow who bullies a solid 210 pounds in his trunks now, but he is the same Francis (Lefty) O'Doul who belted the ball well enough to twice lead the National league. O'Doul once pitched for Salt Lake City in the Pacific Coast league.

The one-time "man in the green suit," who was a Broadway celebrity for many a year, is a paid-up member in the avoirdupois circuit, sure enough. When "Lefty" was in his playing prime, going back 18 years to his first season with the Giants, he weighed 169 pounds.

Don't misconstrue his as a weighty problem. But it is slightly unusual because O'Doul put on 30 pounds in the last six months. We asked him the secret of his expanding success. "I gave up smoking," he said, somewhat sheepishly we thought. "And when I quit the weed I up and grew right out of my clothes. Had to have 'em all altered. Didn't have any particular reason for quitting, either. I had smoked since I was a young fellow." O'Doul is crowding 50 now.

"Lefty" is completely contented managing the San Francisco Seals, a lifetime job on the assurance of his bosses, and right now he is getting ready to take his club to Honolulu for spring training.

Idaho, Montana Undecided Who Won Ball Game

MOSCOW, Feb. 12 (AP)—Who won the ball game?

Official and unofficial scorers, coaches, players and managers in this university town didn't know this morning and they won't know, officially, until tonight whether University of Idaho won 57-56, or whether Montana State University won 58-57 in last night's game.

It was like this:

Early in the second half Tom Selstad, Montana center, looped in a basket. At least Idaho's official scorer, Professor W. H. Boyer, and two newspaper scorers said he did. Montana's scorer, Gus Lecos, student manager, said it was John Cheek, guard, who tallied the count.

"O. K." said Boyer, and wrote a "2" opposite Cheek's name. But he didn't, apparently, erase the "2" in Selstad's column, nor did he change the running score in his book.

The game ended with the press boys' books, Boyer's running tally and the score board showing Idaho ahead, 57-56. The 3500 fans never knew there was any question.

But in the dressing room there was.

Boyer's box score didn't add with his running score. And Coach George P. Dahlberg promptly said " the official score (Boyer's) shows Montana won, and that's that."

400 TEAMS TO ENTER

SEATTLE, Feb. 12. (AP)—More than 400 teams may be entered in the N. I. B. C. tournament at Spokane in May, Secretary George Kosmos of the Northwest Bowling conference said last night, as he announced 11 teams from California already had filed their entries.
